Dudley's Mill Samuel Dudley came from Exeter and settled on No. 87, old Hundreds, here Judge John Dudley later lived and built a sawmill. In 1759 a road was laid out at the request of Samuel Dudley and others; from Freetown to the Center, to the "River below Dudley's Mill." In 1866 a very dilapidated frame was still standing. Joseph Dudley, a nephew of the Judge came from Exeter and built a mill on the Lamprey River, near where Elias True had a mill in 1866, on the No. 89 old Hundreds.
